Men’s Health Coordinator

Full time, or part time, fixed term funded position

An exciting opportunity exists for a coordinator to deliver culturally appropriate primary health care services to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander men across the AWAHS catchment area.

The aim of this program is to improve the standard of health of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people through the provision of culturally valid, holistic primary health care services.

Our ideal candidate would have the following:

• Qualifications to enable registration as a Registered Nurse with the Nursing & Midwifery Board of Australia, or hold a Certificate III or higher in Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care or equivalent.
• Current registration with Australian Health Practitioner Registration Agency (AHPRA).
• Demonstrated knowledge in the principles of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander primary health and associated skills to perform assessments, plan and implement health care strategies.

AWAHS considers that being a male, Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander is a genuine occupational qualification under s 14 of the Anti-Discrimination Act 1977 (NSW).”

About us

The Department of Family and Community Services (FACS) directly supports approximately 800,000 people every year and reaches a further million people through local community-based programs.

We’re changing the way we do things that affect them. The Shepparton Office will be closely connected with this work. The Department values a diverse and inclusive workplace. The Shepparton Office welcomes diversity and strives to deliver an inclusive, respectful workplace for all staff every day.

Our Ideal Candidate

We are seeking a strong leader with the skills and experience required to shape and maintain the strategic direction of a new team. You will be results oriented and passionate about achieving positive outcomes for Indigenous people. To fill this role, you will demonstrate the following abilities:

• Ability to identify opportunities early and drive place-based transformational change aligned with the Government’s Strategic Pathway.
• Interpersonal, engagement, mediation and communication skills to bring diverse stakeholders together for collaboration on regional priorities.
• Sound judgement, the ability to solve complex issues and can juggle competing priorities within tight timeframes.
• Ability to fully engage both internal and external to government and to have a strategic, innovative, evaluative and forward thinking approach to delivering outcomes.
• Strong understanding of issues affecting Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander People, particularly in Northern Victoria, and to communicate sensitively and effectively with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander People across a range of issues.

Identified Position

This position has direct engagement with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people, communities and service providers, or is involved in the development of programmes and policy. You will require a high level of cultural competency, including:

• Demonstrated understanding of the issues affecting Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples.
• Demonstrated high level capability to communicate sensitively and effectively with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander peoples.
• Demonstrated high level capability and commitment to continue to develop cultural competency.

The Institute of Koorie Education sits within the Faculty of Arts and Education at Deakin University and through Community Based Education programs, enables Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australians the flexibility to gain access to higher education while still being able to maintain family and community obligations.

The Institute is seeking an esteemed academic to join an established team of colleagues working in multiple disciplines including Indigenous Knowledges with a particular focus on Caring for Country/Natural and Cultural Resource Management. The role is primarily responsible for teaching into the Graduate Diploma of Land and Sea Management.

This is a continuing position based at our Waurn Ponds campus with salary in the range of $95,488-$112,940 p.a + 17% super.

In line with the special measure provisions in Section 12 of the Victorian Equal Opportunity Act (2010) the University will only accept applications from people who identify as Australian Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander.

To be successful, you’ll have:

- A minimum Masters level degree in a relevant discipline (Indigenous Knowledges, Caring for Country/Natural and Cultural Resource Management) and/or other relevant qualifications such as in Environmental Science or Indigenous Studies and a commitment to undertake postgraduate studies at the PhD level
- A demonstrated knowledge and understanding of Indigenous societies and cultures and an understanding of the issues affecting Indigenous people in contemporary Australian society
- An excellent record of scholarly learning and teaching in undergraduate and post-graduate programs and mixed-mode delivery (face to face and in the cloud) and a capacity to contribute to development of an innovative curriculum
- An ability to contribute to community engagement activities
- High level interpersonal skills and an ability to communicate sensitively and effectively with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples on matters relevant to the delivery of education services to Indigenous people

Your key responsibilities will be to:

- Teach, conduct research, and engage in practice based activities across Indigenous Knowledges, with a particular focus on Caring for Country/Natural and Cultural Resource Management
- Promote the Institute and build relationships, links and partnerships with academic, industry, professional and national Indigenous communities for enhanced teaching and research outcomes
- Contribute to the Institutes post-graduate teaching into the Graduate Diploma of Land and Sea Country Management to a cohort of students generally living in their communities Australia-wide through block-mode intensive classes and in the cloud
- Contribute to the quality of teaching and learning including curriculum development activities to advance the discipline
- Undertake both professional and administrative duties to enhance the Indigenous Knowledges discipline and Deakin University more broadly

Benefits

We value our staff, and understand that they are more than just their jobs. That’s why we offer benefits that enhance work life. Some of Deakin’s workplace benefits include:

- 17% Superannuation
- Flexible work arrangements
- Discounts with third party suppliers (health insurance, car rentals, IT & more)

For further information please contact Fiona Mitchell, HR Consultant, Indigenous Staffing on +61 3 5227 8733

Applications close on Wednesday 27 February 2019. When applying, please include a cover letter, resume and responses to the Key Selection Criteria.

At Deakin we value diversity, embrace difference and nurture a connected, safe and respectful community. We recognise that our academic workforce is increasingly diverse with a variety of backgrounds, experiences and responsibilities. In many cases, academic careers can be put on hold through career breaks or part-time work arrangements to take on caring duties, gain experience in other industries, for medical reasons or other personal circumstances.

Achievement relative to opportunity places more emphasis on the quality as opposed to the quantity of research outputs. In your application, we encourage you to comment on your achievements relative to opportunity.

Aboriginal Housing Victoria is seeking Experiences of Interest (EOIs) from committed, highly motivated Aboriginal people, who may not have had previous opportunities to develop the required competencies and experience to obtain positions as Board Directors.

If you aspire to be a Board Director for an Aboriginal controlled community organisations, or mainstream organisations that deliver services to Aboriginal people, we want to hear from you.

Two Associate Director positions are available for a period of up to 2 years.

AHV is an Aboriginal community organisation responsible for managing over 1,500 rental properties for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people living in Victoria. Our vision is to ensure that Aboriginal Victorians secure appropriate, affordable housing as a pathway to better lives and stronger communities.

You will not be required to demonstrate relevant experience in governance and industry. We are seeking EOIs from people who have the required personal qualities, together with a commitment to personal development, and training opportunities that achieve formal accreditation and competency development.

Associate Directors will participate in AHV Board meetings. The AHV Board meets 9 times a year, generally during business hours. Associate Directors will not be eligible for sitting fees, but AHV will cover travel or accommodation costs incurred in attending meetings. AHV will also meet the costs of Company Director training and development activities.

Further information about AHV and the Associate Director positions, including the EOI template is available at: http://ahvic.org.au/about/corporate-governance

EOI forms and attachments must be received by COB Friday 8 March 2019. Email applications will be accepted.

EOIs should be addressed to John Templeman, Director Strategy and Performance:

Email: john.templeman@ahvic.org.au
Postal address: Narellan House
25-127 South Street
North Fitzroy VIC 3068

If you need any more information about the Associate Directorship positions please contact John Templeman on Tel: (03) 9403 2121 or Deb Connell on Tel: (03) 9403 2103 or email deb.connell@ahvic.org.au

New planning changes the future

Larrakia expansion a boost to culture

CULTURAL programs and services in the Darwin region are gearing up to expand through Larrakia Nation Aboriginal Corporation.

A new partnership deal between the Northern Territory and Australian Governments and the City of Darwin will see $2 million provided to Larrakia Nation Aboriginal Corporation to promote cultural protocols in the Darwin region.

The Larrakia Host program will work with the Larrakia Day Patrol and employ six Larrakia and other Aboriginal people who will work to promote the Larrakia culture to tourists, visitors and residents; provide a referral service to other programs, including the Day Patrol; and remind visitors from other communities about the types of acceptable behaviour on Larrakia country.

The aim of the program is to boost tourism and employment opportunities for Aboriginal people while preserving and promoting Larrakia culture.

Larrakia Nation Aboriginal Corporation board member Richard Fejo said raising awareness of cultural protocols will help build partnerships with the Larrakia people, community and visitors.

“Larrakia people have always welcomed people to our lands, despite the ongoing struggle for proper recognition of our rights,” he said.
