

Graduate Investigator

About us

Kick start your career with the Australian Building and Construction Commission (ABCC) in 2019.

At the ABCC, we work to ensure the building industry is fair, efficient and productive. We provide assistance, advice and education to the building and construction industry; monitor and promote compliance with relevant laws; undertake enforcement activities; and use information and analysis to inform decision making.

The ABCC has offices in each capital city across Australia, with most comprising of multi-disciplinary teams of Investigators, Lawyers and support personnel.

About the Position

We are offering an outstanding opportunity to a recent graduate or near-graduate that has a genuine interest in commencing their career as an APS 3 Graduate Investigator in the highly specialised, but exciting, area of workplace relations. ABCC Investigators undertake assessments, investigations and audits relating to breaches of Commonwealth workplace laws.

As a Graduate Investigator, you will participate in education sessions that the ABCC provides to the building and construction industry, assist with the preparation of reports and briefs of evidence, and maintain and use digital technologies such as case management systems.

We're looking for a graduate from a broad range of disciplines that may have studied in areas including, but not limited to:

- Industrial relations
- Workplace relations
- Human resources
- Criminology
- Investigations
- Law

What you'll need to succeed

No professional experience is required, however, you will need to demonstrate:

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills, as well as interpersonal skills
- A flexible approach and willingness to learn in a team environment
- An ability to apply critical thinking and analysis to a range of situations
- Drive and enthusiasm for long term career success
- Strong academic results

We actively encourage applications from people of diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives.

What you'll get in return

At the ABCC, we recognise, appreciate and seek to harness our people's individual skills and talents. You will thrive in our vibrant and down to earth, yet stimulating environment that empowers our people to succeed.

Graduates will:

- participate in a structured training program; a mixture of on-the-job training as well as virtual, self-paced and group learning activities;
- be assigned a buddy upon commencement;
- be offered an attractive base salary of $63,037 plus 15.4% superannuation; and
- have access to flexible work arrangements and family friendly work practices in maintaining a diverse, adaptive and high performing workforce.

What you need to do now

If you are looking for a rewarding, entry-level opportunity to grow with a supportive organisation that values and rewards its employees, please apply now.

For further information about the position or how to apply, please visit <https://www.abcc.gov.au/current-vacancies> and read the candidate information kit, or contact Matthew Tarpkos, Team Leader, on (03) 8509 3011.

Applications are welcome from Australian Citizens of all backgrounds, who are near-graduates or have graduated from university within the past two years from the application closing date. It is important that applicants view the full candidate kit listed on the link below before applying.

Closing date is 11:30 pm, 17 April 2019.

WEB LINK