Indigenous Australian Research Officer

Job no: 533124

Work type: Full Time, Continuing

Location: Canberra / ACT

Categories: Professional

Classification: ANU Officer 5/6 (Research)

Salary package: $71,878 - $84,451 per annum plus 17% superannuation

Position overview

The Australian Dictionary of Biography (ADB), National Centre of Biography (NCB) in the School of History, Research School of Social Science (RSSH) College of Arts and Social Sciences (CASS) is seeking to appoint a highly qualified individual for the fractional continuing position of Research Officer for its Indigenous biographies. The ADB has an Indigenous Australian Dictionary of Biography (IADB) project, which is partly funded by the ARC, and the Editorial Board had made the decision to revise the dictionary in the period before 1850, which will involve the inclusion of many more indigenous biographies. This expansion of indigenous articles has the support of the ADB Indigenous Working Party led and comprising Indigenous Scholars who represent Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities around the country. The successful applicant will have professional and technical skills and experience in research and editing biography, together with a research track in historical writing and an independent research agenda.

This is an identified position in accordance with the University's Identified Positions Procedure. The filling of this position is intended to constitute a special measure and is aimed at increasing employment opportunities for Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander persons in line with the strategies in the ANU Enterprise Agreement.
