

Batchelor Institute

Senior Lecturer – Conservation and Land Management - Batchelor

The Senior Lecturer - Conservation and Land Management is responsible for leading the delivery of quality Vocational Education and Training (VET) within the context of Batchelor Institute's role as Australia's leading First Nations Tertiary Education and Research provider..

The Senior Lecturer - Conservation and Land Management is responsible for managing accountabilities for relevant student outcomes, Finance and Human Resources, VET Training Products and relevant projects underpinned by the Batchelor Institute Both-ways principles of practice and improving individual and team performance in the Domains of Work and Work Skills.

In addition, the Senior Lecturer - Conservation and Land Management will assist the Director of Infrastructure, Land and Environment and the Further Education Division with planning, implementing, evaluating and reporting VET requirements. They will also be required to supervise and manage the following activities carried out by the Lecturer B's:

- Teaching, management and facilitation of culturally appropriate training and learning activities
- Student assessments, maintenance of student records, supervision of students , and monitoring student progression;
- Liaison with students and industry partners;
- Participate in activities and all requirements of the Department of Commerce and Industry, VET Services.
- Development of appropriate teaching resources and assessment materials.

2 x Lecturer – Conservation and Land Management – Nhulunbuy & Alice Springs

VET Lecturer positions within Batchelor Institute are aligned to the IBSA VET Practitioner Capability Framework adapted to the Batchelor Institute context<sup>1</sup>.

The Lecturer - Conservation and Land Management is responsible for the delivery of quality Vocational Education and Training (VET) within the context of Batchelor Institute's role as Australia's leading First Nations Tertiary Education and Research provider.

The Lecturer - Conservation and Land Management is responsible for the development and delivery of innovative VET programs underpinned by the Batchelor Institute Both-ways principles of practice as well as contributing to delivery of approved training programs within the areas of Agriculture, Horticulture and Conservation and Land Management training package.

Lecturer – Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care - Batchelor

The Lecturer Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care is responsible for the delivery of quality Vocational Education and Training (VET) within the context of Batchelor Institute's role as Australia's leading First Nations Tertiary Education and Research provider.

The Lecturer Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care is responsible for the development and delivery of innovative VET programs underpinned by the Batchelor Institute Both-ways principles of practice as well as contributing to the delivery of approved training programs within the areas of Indigenous primary health care and community services.

In addition, the lecturer Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Primary Health Care will assist the Senior Lecturer Health with particular duties:

- Teaching, management and facilitation of culturally appropriate teaching and learning activities;
- Student assessments, maintenance of student records, supervision of students, and monitoring student progression;
- Liaison with remote Aboriginal communities and health industry partners;
- Participate in research activities and all requirements of the course and Directorate of Humanities, Division of Further Education and;
- Development of teaching resources and assessment material.

Priority consideration will be given to Aboriginal and / or Torres Strait Islander applicants.

The position description is available from the Institute's website

www.batchelor.edu.au/people/current-vacancies or by contacting the Human Resources Unit on (08) 8939 7207 or (08) 8939 7393.

Applicants are required to submit a completed application lodgement form available from our website and include a covering letter and current resume.

All enquiries and applications are to be forwarded directly to Batchelor Institute via email at recruitment@batchelor.edu.au

Applications close Sunday 28th January 2018