MANAGER - STRATEGY

- Senior strategy and policy role
- Influence policies & systems that impact on Aboriginal women
- Work closely with our high profile CEO

Reporting to the General Manager, you will work closely with our CEO supporting her high profile state and national advocacy, and will manage Djirra's influencing, policy, law reform and campaigning work. You will provide day to day operational oversight of a small Strategy Team through hands on management and a collaborative, inclusive and team orientated communication style.

Key demonstrated success in the role will be reflected by:

- Effectively advising and supporting the CEO and General Manager on advocacy, strategic positioning, and service development.
- Effectively mentoring and guiding the team and ensuring they have the right resources, systems, training, development and team based cultural environment to achieve desired outcomes for Djirra.
- Astuteness working within complex political environments and within an Aboriginal Community Controlled Organisation.

This role requires an individual who has successfully managed comparable levels of responsibility within a complex and dynamic environment. A proven ability to work or learn to work with Aboriginal organisations in culturally appropriate ways, as well as mainstream organisations, is vital.
