Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Recruitment at Monash Health

Our in-house Aboriginal Employment Coordinator helps support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander candidates to begin their career journey at Monash Health. We have a large range of employment opportunities in both non-clinical and clinical areas.

About Monash Health
Monash Health is the largest public health service in Victoria employing over 18,000 people across a range of specialties.

How will we support you?
Please note this tailored recruitment opportunity is only for those people who identify as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander.

- Once we receive your resume, you will receive a phone call directly from an Aboriginal Employment coordinator.
- You’ll be asked a range of questions around your skills and capabilities. We will also ask you what you want to achieve during your career journey at Monash Health.
- We will advise you of the current Monash Health vacancies that match your current skill set.
- Those job links will be emailed directly to you so that you can apply for these jobs (for privacy reasons, this cannot be done on your behalf).
- From there, the Aboriginal Employment coordinator will provide you with the support and guidance during your recruitment journey with Monash Health.

Our Community
Once you join Monash Health, you receive the support and guidance to integrate you into our community through a range of initiatives and activities such as:

- Aboriginal Mentor support.
- Yarning circles.
- Celebrations such as NAIDOC Week and Reconciliation Week.
- Focus groups where you will be given the opportunity to contribute to improving Aboriginal Health.

How to Apply
If you identify as an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander person and are looking for employment with Monash Health, we would love to hear from you.

- Submit your current resume and cover letter by hitting ‘Apply.’
- In your cover letter, specify what type of roles you are interested in within Monash Health whether it be admin or clinically related (based on your current skill set).
- You will be contacted shortly after your application is received.

Monash Health recognises the value of equal employment opportunity and is committed to patient safety and promoting fairness, equity and diversity in the workplace. At Monash Health we are relentless in our pursuit of excellence and work to our six guiding principles.

Preferred candidates will require a clear Police Check and a current Employee Working with Children’s Check prior to any offers of employment being made. As part of our selection process, you may be invited by email to participate in an on-camera video interview.

Please note, applications will be accepted via the Monash Health online Mercury System only. Email applications will not be considered.

To view the full position description and to APPLY NOW, click here

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Recruitment at Monash Health

Our in-house Aboriginal Employment Coordinator helps support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander candidates to begin their career journey at Monash Health. We have a large range of employment opportunities in both non-clinical and clinical areas.

About Monash Health
Monash Health is the largest public health service in Victoria employing over 18,000 people across a range of specialties.

How will we support you?
Please note this tailored recruitment opportunity is only for those people who identify as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander.

- Once we receive your resume, you will receive a phone call directly from an Aboriginal Employment coordinator.
- You’ll be asked a range of questions around your skills and capabilities. We will also ask you what you want to achieve during your career journey at Monash Health.
- We will advise you of the current Monash Health vacancies that match your current skill set.
- Those job links will be emailed directly to you so that you can apply for these jobs (for privacy reasons, this cannot be done on your behalf).
- From there, the Aboriginal Employment coordinator will provide you with the support and guidance during your recruitment journey with Monash Health.

Our Community
Once you join Monash Health, you receive the support and guidance to integrate you into our community through a range of initiatives and activities such as:

- Aboriginal Mentor support.
- Yarning circles.
- Celebrations such as NAIDOC Week and Reconciliation Week.
- Focus groups where you will be given the opportunity to contribute to improving Aboriginal Health.

How to Apply
If you identify as an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander person and are looking for employment with Monash Health, we would love to hear from you.

- Submit your current resume and cover letter by hitting ‘Apply.’
- In your cover letter, specify what type of roles you are interested in within Monash Health whether it be admin or clinically related (based on your current skill set).
- You will be contacted shortly after your application is received.

Monash Health recognises the value of equal employment opportunity and is committed to patient safety and promoting fairness, equity and diversity in the workplace. At Monash Health we are relentless in our pursuit of excellence and work to our six guiding principles.

Preferred candidates will require a clear Police Check and a current Employee Working with Children’s Check prior to any offers of employment being made. As part of our selection process, you may be invited by email to participate in an on-camera video interview.

Please note, applications will be accepted via the Monash Health online Mercury System only. Email applications will not be considered.

To view the full position description and to APPLY NOW, click here