

NITV News Librarian

Full Time, Sydney North Shore & Northern Beaches

The world is not mono. Look around... it's not monochrome or monotone. The world is marvelously multi. When you look at the world this way, it makes a difference. At NITV we are inspired by this difference; we celebrate and champion the place of unique, inspiring storytelling. We are looking for people who want to come on a journey somewhere different, telling stories with a difference, and highlighting the wonderful differences we share.

About the role

The NITV Indigenous News and Current Affairs team (INACA) is looking for a highly organised, enthusiastic media librarian to manage the flow of original material through the newsroom. This is a full time, 12 month opportunity

The INACA librarian will support daily news broadcasts, online content creation and current affairs programs to bring Indigenous stories and perspectives to a wider Australian audience. A passion for Indigenous Australia and broader knowledge of news and current affairs is essential.

We strongly encourage Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander candidates to apply.

The Benefits

We want you to love your place of work, so not only are you part of an organisation focused on making a positive social difference, but there's also free onsite parking (subject to availability), free gym membership, retail discounts at a variety of chains, and an active social club.

If this sounds like you and something you would be interested in, then we would love to hear from you.

At SBS, it's not just what you do but how you do it. We're looking for people who share our passion and hold our strong values, diverse workforce and inclusive culture and encourage people from all backgrounds to apply.
