South West Sydney Legal Centre (SWSLC) is a not-for-profit organisation, delivering innovative, multi-disciplinary and diverse strategies aimed towards facilitating access to justice in our local communities.

SWSLC auspices several domestic violence programs, including the Sydney Women's Domestic Violence Court Advocacy Service (Sydney WDV CAS).

We are seeking to fill a position for a domestic violence worker in the Sydney WDV CAS. You will be part of a team committed to eliminating violence against women and children.

Domestic Violence workers in the Sydney WDV CAS provide information, assistance, referrals and court advocacy to WDV CAS clients before, during and after court. They work in partnership with NSW Police, Local courts, legal representatives and referral agencies to ensure safety and support for women who are experiencing domestic violence and who are going through the ADVO process at Newtown, Waverley and Downing Centre local courts.

Applicants should have a commitment to empowering women and children affected by domestic and family violence, and have demonstrated ability to engage effectively with clients in crisis.

The Aboriginal Specialist Worker position is only open to Aboriginal women as defined under section 4(1) of the Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983 (NSW) – Aboriginality is a genuine occupational qualification for this position. The preferred applicants will be required to undergo a Working with Children Check and a Criminal Record Check.

Closing Date: 4.00pm 12 November 2018 or sooner.

Apply as soon as possible. Suitable applicants will be interviewed immediately.
