Koori List Engagement Registrar

Melbourne Magistrates' Court

This is an Aboriginal Designated position, available only to people who identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander.

VOCAT seeks a Koori person to assist in making connections with the Koori community, particularly in relation to victims of violent crime. The role will involve communicating to Koori service providers the range of assistance available under the Victims of Crimes Assistance Act 1996 (the Act). The VOCAT Koori List Engagement Registrar will also create referral processes with practitioners from Umalek Balit, invite feedback from the Koori community and respond to that feedback by recommending and implementing culturally sensitive and inclusive methods of administering the Act.

The VOCAT Koori List Engagement Registrar will also work closely with the current VOCAT Koori List Registrar in processing applications for assistance by Koori victims. There will be a requirement to learn all aspects of the operational role, including case managing files, making interim awards where possible and entering data in the Tribunal's case management system.
