

Médecins Sans Frontières Australia

Content Production & Media Manager

Full time / 10 months maternity cover

Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) is the world's leading independent organisation for medical humanitarian aid. We offer medical assistance to populations in distress, to victims of natural or man-made disasters and to victims of armed conflict, without discrimination and irrespective of race, religion, creed or political affiliation.

The Content Production & Media Manager is responsible for developing and implementing MSF Australia's operational and medical communications and media strategy. In addition, the role manages a team that is responsible for generating knowledge of the medical and humanitarian action of the MSF movement in the media, the general public, institutions and key target audiences in Australian and New Zealand society.

The successful candidate must have strategic experience in a communications department, experience in project and people management, a strong understanding of current medical-humanitarian issues, experience working in an operational or field communications role with MSF, as well as capacity to manage media and crisis communications.

Médecins Sans Frontières Australia is committed to creating an inclusive workplace for all our staff. We believe that a diverse team helps us better serve those most in need, and we encourage people from a wide range of backgrounds to apply for this role, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, people from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds and people with disabilities

For a copy of the job description including the full selection criteria, please see the attached job description or visit the MSF website: www.msf.org.au

Applications MUST address individual selection criteria, with a cover letter telling us why you want to work for MSF and include your CV.
