The Strategy, Planning and Performance Office works with colleagues across the University to develop clear goals and actions required to progress Murdoch agendas. Making progress in these areas requires thoughtful, collaborative approaches engaging across the academy and professional operations. This work begins with clear strategies, moves to operational planning, performance monitoring and also provides support for emerging activities sponsored by members of the Murdoch Senior Executive Group

The Role

Reporting to the Director Strategy, Planning and Performance, the Strategic Projects Officer is responsible for progressing diverse strategic projects. The Strategic Projects Officer will apply project management and research methodologies, reliable analytical methods and outstanding communication and influencing skills to progress the Murdoch strategic agendas. For further information about this position, please refer to the Position Description.

Skills and Experience

- Undergraduate qualifications in a relevant discipline.
- Substantial prior experience in the Australian and/or international higher education sector particularly around strategy, planning, project management, continuous improvement and performance.
- Demonstrable experience around influencing academic and professional staff through diverse scenarios.
- Research knowledge, skills and experience across disciplines with the ability to apply these skills to emerging challenges.
- A high level of business acumen and knowledge of higher education sector trends and challenges.

Think Murdoch

This is a great time to join Murdoch. There are a multitude of opportunities and exciting projects that are presented by the State Government Activity Centre on our doorstep. The co-location of the New Fiona Stanley Hospital and the St John of God Hospital provide many synergies for our learning and teaching, research and community engagement.

To Apply

Murdoch University values workplace diversity, promotes inclusion, and strongly encourages applications from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, women, and individuals with disability. Applicants, who have support or access requirements, are encouraged to advise this at the time of their application, to ensure the required assistance is provided.
