

INDIGENOUS HEALTH PROJECT OFFICER

North Coast Primary Health Network (NCPHN) has a vacancy for an Indigenous Health Project Officer – Hastings Macleay. The Project Officer role works across a variety of projects with a focus on contract management and improving access to culturally appropriate mainstream primary health care for Aboriginal people in the local North Coast Primary Health Network (NCPHN) regional area.

The Project Officer works in partnership with key stakeholders to work towards improving health outcomes for the local communities. The Indigenous Health Project Officer is responsible for co-ordinating aspects of the Integrated Team Care (ITC) program both inside and outside NCPHN to ensure a focus on Indigenous health to improve the integration of care and ensure services are culturally appropriate across the region.

This position will cover the Hastings Macleay/Kempsey and Port Macquarie region. Base work location will be Port Macquarie, however regular travel will be required to Kempsey and the Hastings Macleay region.

Applicants of Aboriginal descent through parentage and who identify as being Aboriginal and are accepted in the community as Aboriginal are strongly encouraged to apply.

This is a part time position. There is flexibility to offer 28 hours per week or up to 32 hours per week. The position is available for immediate start. Employment will be for a maximum term up to 30 June 2021.

For more information, including a full Position Description, and to apply, please visit the Careers page of our website: <https://ncphn.org.au/careers>

Applications close: 8am Tuesday 26 June 2018

Enquiries to Susan Parker Pavlovic, Manager - Aboriginal Health
on (07) 5589 0503