

Program Manager: Social & Emotional Wellbeing

Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander identified position

- Utilise your project, contract management and organisational skills to ensure culturally appropriate services, workforce and community development is achieved
- Competitive remuneration and salary packaging options, five weeks' annual leave and 9-day fortnight / 19-day month options
- Based at our ANY of our offices – Rockhampton, Maroochydore, Bundaberg, Hervey Bay

About the Opportunity

The Social and Emotional Wellbeing Program Manager is responsible for working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community and stakeholders, with primary responsibility for commissioning approaches and contract management for mental health, and alcohol and other drug services. The primary purpose of this position is to ensure services are underpinned by a social and emotional wellbeing approach that is holistic and incorporates the physical, social, emotional, and cultural wellbeing of individuals and their communities. The role is guided by the wisdom in communities and works with high level stakeholders to ensure culturally appropriate services, workforce and community development is achieved.

Key selection criteria:

- A relevant tertiary qualification and/or experience in Mental Health, Social Services, and/or Health Management and Planning
- Clinical experience in mental health and/or alcohol and other drugs is seen as an advantage
- 3 – 5 years' experience in a health leadership related role
- High level knowledge and understanding of contemporary evidence-based service delivery models, planning, strategies and guiding policy documents across the mental health, and/or alcohol and/or suicide prevention sectors
- Extensive knowledge and understanding of trends in primary health care reforms, including State and Federal Government roles in primary mental health care
- Understanding of commissioning process and mental health and/or alcohol and other drugs service delivery in a community environment and strong clinical governance practices
- Demonstrated success in managing health project and programs

Benefits

- Competitive remuneration and work-life balance
- Salary packaging options
- Ongoing professional development
- 5 weeks' annual leave as well as a 9-day fortnight or 19-day month working days options
- Being a part of a talented supportive team to shape the future of improved health outcomes for the community

APPLICATIONS CLOSE: COB MONDAY 5TH MARCH 2018

Applicants are required to submit the following in electronic form via SEEK:

1. A letter addressing the Key Selection Criteria (listed above) clearly outlining your suitability for the role
2. A current Résumé

The job description can be downloaded via our website, please copy the below into your web browser:

<https://www.ourphn.org.au/job/program-manager-social-emotional-wellbeing/>

If you require further information please contact 5456 8100.