Start your career in Social Work

With UNSW's Pre-Programs Indigenous pathway

Social Work opens doors to careers in mental health, aged care, gendered violence, cultural empowerment, and more. At UNSW, you'll gain the knowledge and experience to make a real impact in communities.

Through the UNSW Pre-Social Work Program, Indigenous students can apply for Social Work degrees without an ATAR. The Pre-Programs pathway is a supportive, strengths-based pathway into university for Indigenous students. You'll connect with mob during the program, learn from Indigenous social workers, and build the confidence to succeed in a Social Work degree at UNSW.

"I moved from Kempsey to Sydney to study Social Work at UNSW because I want to help my community. The Pre-Social Work Program helped me connect with mob at UNSW, build my confidence, and get ready to start my degree."

– Jayden

Bachelor of Social Work (Honours)

Scan the QR code to apply for the UNSW Social Work Pre-Programs pathway

Have a question? Email us via ada.indigenous@unsw.edu.au

Start your career in Arts, Design & Architecture

With over 75 study areas to choose from, there's a pathway for every passion

At UNSW Arts, Design & Architecture (ADA), your studies can lead to careers in media, performing arts, design, fine arts, construction, architecture, linguistics, education, policy, and social sciences.

Our graduates become artists, animators, educators, designers, film and media professionals, journalists, policy advisors, and social researchers — making an impact in communities across Australia and around the world.

Through the Indigenous Admission Scheme (IAS), Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students can apply for ADA degrees without an ATAR. The IAS recognises your potential and supports you to take the first step toward a rewarding career and achieving your dreams.

Scan the QR code to learn more about UNSW's Indigenous Admissions Scheme

Have a question? Email us via ada.
indigenous@unsw.edu.au

"Moving to Sydney to study Fine Arts at has been exciting and demanding. At UNSW I found a safe, supportive community where I built lasting connections, grew my creative practice, and gained the confidence to pursue art as a career."

– Gosha

Bachelor of Fine Arts (Honours)