Working at the ABC

The ABC is the nation's most trusted and independent source of Australian conversations, culture, and stories. With more than 4,000 employees from diverse backgrounds across more than 50 locations around Australia and overseas, we are proud to create, curate and deliver high-quality content that informs, educates and entertains Australian communities.

The ABC's a great place to work; we provide various opportunities for Indigenous staff, including attending the national Indigenous staff conference, activities during NAIDOC week, regular networking events and mentoring support.

You'll have a friendly and supportive environment to learn and grow in, with a vibrant, dynamic and cohesive team and a manager who will help you with any questions and give you regular opportunities to talk about your progress. You'll also have access to a network of Indigenous staff and support from the ABC's Lead, Indigenous Employment and Diversity.

About the Role

Be part of an exciting team working in one of the most unique areas in the Country reporting from Australia's only heritage listed City famous for mining, films, art and tourism. After a few weeks in the Far West - the red dirt will get under your fingernails and you will be hooked! ABC Broken Hill has been the stepping stone for many a talented presenter or reporter who have managed to launch their career from the historic Silver City.

The role involves some shift and weekend work. You'll work across television, online and radio and be able to adapt your craft skills across platforms.

You will also:

- Collaboratively work with the local team and contribute to coverage for audiences in the region and across the country.
- Create accurate, concise and clear news content
- Deliver digital news content, radio news bulletins, Q&A's, interviews and packages

About You

To join this team, you will need to be a highly motivated News Reporter and be able to demonstrate:

- Proven reporting, research and journalism skill
- Experience in, or willingness to learn, television reporting, video journalism or video news production
- A history of developing contacts and breaking news
