

Leadership Opportunities // Peak Body for Aboriginal Community Housing Providers

Bloom HR are partnering with the Board of The Aboriginal Community Housing Industry Association (ACHIA) NSW to appoint their inaugural leadership team, and are currently inviting applications for four newly created roles which are as follows:

Director - Project and Development Implementation

Director - Closing the Gap, Policy and Communications

Director - Sector Development

Service Development Manager, Domestic and Family Violence

The Aboriginal Community Housing Industry Association (ACHIA) NSW is the peak body for Aboriginal Community Housing Providers in NSW. ACHIA NSW was established in 2020 to be a strong, effective and independent voice for the Aboriginal community housing sector.

The successful applicants must have a demonstrated history of delivering in a similar environment, have the highest level of ethics and integrity and be committed to improving the housing circumstances of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

All roles are remote based, with occasional travel across NSW and to the organisation's head office in Redfern.
