Where you'll be working

The Cancer Institute NSW is the NSW Government's cancer control agency, established to lessen the impact of cancer across the state.

Working at the Cancer Institute NSW means joining a team of committed and dedicated staff who are proud to be a part of the Institute's purpose of overseeing and accelerating the effectiveness of cancer control in NSW, with a focus on Aboriginal people.

The Cancer Institute is a collaborative working environment that encourages diversity and inclusion in how we work and the way we work together.

What you'll be doing

In this role you will lead the implementation of the Coordination of Care for Aboriginal people in the cancer services project with the aim to achieve equity of cancer outcomes for the NSW Aboriginal communities and deliver against the objectives of the NSW Cancer Plan. This role will also develop and maintain internal and external relationships with stakeholders including Local Health District Cancer Services, Aboriginal Health Units, and Population Health Units, Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Services, Primary Health Networks and the local Aboriginal communities to drive improvement in cancer outcomes of Aboriginal people.
