

Your future is in your hands.

Are you ready to take the next step?

Whether it's to reskill, upskill or outskill, discover how QUT's leading undergraduate and postgraduate courses can help you make you mark.

The Centralised Assessment and Selection Program (CASP) is an admissions pathway that can assist Australian Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people to enter most undergraduate and some postgraduate (coursework) courses at QUT.

When considering your application, CASP's holistic approach will consider your previous study, personal attributes and achievements in order to align these to your chosen course of study.

Applications for Semester 2 2022 are now open.
