

Be part of creating a fairer future for all

We are looking for people to join our university – to bring their cultural knowledge and understanding to our region, and to take their powerful ideas to the world with us.

As one of the top 200 universities in the world¹, we are grounded by the needs of our communities and are proud of our five-star rating for social equity².
We are leaders for gender equity, Indigenous student enrolments and the employment of Indigenous staff.

If this sounds like your kind of community, we invite you to see what opportunities we have for you.

- Director Indigenous Research
Strategy and Leadership
- Lecturer Architecture/
Landscape Architecture
- Lecturer in Construction and/or Disaster Management
- Lecturer in Global Indigenous Studies
- Lecturer in Politics
- Lecturer in Social Work (Fixed term)
- Senior Lecturer in Architecture
- Senior Lecturer in Global Indigenous Studies
- Thurru Indigenous Health
Unit Coordinator

For further information contact
Lindsay.Hardy@newcastle.edu.au

Ray's research is reviving Indigenous languages

THE UNIVERSITY OF
NEWCASTLE
AUSTRALIA

BE PART OF SOMETHING BIGGER
NEWCASTLE.EDU.AU/JOBS

1 QS World University Rankings 2022
2 The Good Universities Guide 2022