

Senior Client Service Officer Specialist (Housing Services) – Homes NSW

The Department of Communities and Justice (DCJ) is one of the largest providers of social housing in the world. We provide a range of housing solutions to meet the varied needs of today's communities. Our highest priorities are to target assistance to those with the greatest need and to work with other agencies to support individuals and communities.

In partnership with the community, industry and individuals, we provide safe, decent and affordable housing opportunities for those most in need so that they can live with dignity, find support if needed and achieve sustainable futures.

The Senior Client Service Officer Specialist plays a critical role in supporting the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients with complex needs by providing tailored advice and addressing their housing and support needs. This role also focuses on mentoring and guiding client service team to deliver efficient, quality client-centred services.

You will be committed to driving positive change, who advocates for clients with complex needs. You will be a strategic problem-solver and guide a high-performing team to deliver meaningful support and sustainable outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait islander communities.
