The Brisbane Youth Detention Centre is looking for a permanent Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Caseworker to deliver culturally appropriate casework and counselling services that promote the safety and well being of young people in detention, facilitate their positive progression through the stages of their period in custody and assist their avoidance of further offending and successful re-integration with families and the community.

Possession of a tertiary degree relevant to the role such as social work, behavioural science or social science, criminology or other recognised degree. Final year students are encouraged to apply for professional officer (PO) vacancies. The remuneration for students is at the PO1 level. Please refer to role profile for more information.

PLEASE NOTE: This is an Identified Position. For this position, it is a genuine occupational requirement that it be filled by an Aboriginal person or Torres Strait Islander person as permitted and arguable under Sections 25, 104 and 105 of the Queensland Anti-Discrimination Act 1991. One of your referees should be an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person who can attest to your background, knowledge, skills and experience as they relate to the cultural capabilities.

Please refer to role profile for list of key responsibilities and other requirements of this position.
