

Director

Queensland Revenue Office/ Brisbane City

Salary: $139,163 to $152,674 p.a.

Location: Brisbane City

REF: QLD/434545/22

Queensland Revenue Office (QRO) is responsible for collecting state taxes and royalties, administering home owner grants, and collecting and enforcing unpaid fines and penalties. In 2021, the former Office of State Revenue (OSR) merged with the State Penalties Enforcement Registry (SPER) to become the QRO of today.

The revenue collected provides almost $16 billion in income for Queensland. This fund essential services including roads, schools, hospitals and health services, as well as art galleries and community events. This helps to grow our economy and improve the wellbeing of all Queenslanders.

OnTalent are excited to partner with QRO to recruit their Director, Strategy Engagement and Workforce. This exciting leadership opportunity will see you lead the Strategy Engagement and Workforce (SEW) division.

In this position, you will drive enabling support for QRO through taking an enterprise view of learning and development, strategic communications and engagement, workforce management, revenue risk and governance.

As Director, you will work closely with the Assistant Commissioner and other senior executives to provide quality, high level strategic advice, analysis and support.

The successful candidate will lead enabling services for the delivery of responsible revenue management to support the government to deliver priorities and will lead the division to deliver business outcomes and meet client and stakeholder needs.

To be successful in this role, you will need to demonstrate high-level competence and extensive experience in strategy development and delivery, including demonstrated abilities in:

- supporting success in providing strategic leadership in the development and implementation of new identified initiatives.
- influencing stakeholders to drive outcomes through practical, solutions-oriented approaches.
- strong leadership skills in supporting and guiding decision-making processes and growing a strategy, workforce and governance team.
- building and sustaining relationships to enable collaborative delivery of customer-focused outcomes

Joining QRO in a leadership role, you will have opportunities for continued learning, growth and career development.
