This is an important notice ordered by the Federal Court of Australia

What is this notice about?

Two Torres Strait Islander leaders have brought a legal case against the Australian Government on behalf of all Torres Strait Islanders. The case is about climate change and its effects on Torres Strait Islanders.

If you are a Torres Strait Islander, and believe you have suffered loss or damage as a result of the Australian Government not doing things to protect Torres Strait Islanders from the effects of climate change you are automatically part of the case. You can:

1. Stay in the case by doing nothing; or
2. Leave the case by sending a form called an opt-out form, or by emailing Phi Finney McDonald and telling them you want to opt out, by 4:00pm AEST on 26 May 2023.

Uncle Pabai Pabai and Uncle Paul Kabai from Boigu and Saibai Islands in the Torres Strait have brought a legal case in the Federal Court against the Australian Government. The case is about climate change and its effects on Torres Strait Islanders. The Australian Government is defending the case.

Uncle Pabai and Uncle Paul's lawyers are a firm called Phi Finney McDonald. They are helping Uncle Pabai and Uncle Paul to bring the case.

What do you need to do to be part of the case?

The case is called a "class action" because Uncle Pabai and Uncle Paul have brought the case on behalf of everyone who is Torres Strait Islander (by descent or by customary adoption) (Torres Strait Islander) and who believes they have suffered loss or damage as a result of the Australian Government not doing things to protect Torres Strait Islanders from the effects of climate change. In legal terms, everyone who meets this description is a "Group Member".

If you meet the description, you are automatically a Group Member and you don't need to do anything to be a part of the case.

What do you need to do if you don't want to be part of the case?

If you don't want to be part of the case, you need to tell the Federal Court. This is called 'opting out' of the case. There are two ways you can opt out:
