

Expression of Interest – NSW NAPLAN Writing Marking 2023

Pearson is one of the largest providers of educational assessment services globally. We partner with educators to develop new and personalized ways of learning through effective, scalable assessments that measure 21st century skills and inform instruction throughout the school year. Together, we're improving learning outcomes and transforming lives.

We have a number of casual employment opportunities available to work on our marking of the National Assessment Program Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) project in 2023. We are seeking experienced teachers (including retired) for this role, however if you are a student in the final year of your teaching degree in NSW or ACT, we would also love to hear from you. Please note, if you are a qualified teacher in NSW, satisfactory completion of training and marking will count towards your professional development recognition from the NSW Education Standards Authority.

Where is it based?

A variety of onsite and remote positions are available for the right candidates. As a marker, you will have the flexibility to work from our marking centre at the Canterbury Park Racecourse in Sydney or from home.

When will you be needed?

If you are interested in working remotely, you have great flexibility in determining your work hours and have the option to mark at any time between the hours of 7 AM to 10 PM.

For those interested in working onsite, you will need to be available 6 days a week, including weekend, with the flexibility to select for either a Day (8 AM to 3 PM) or Evening shift (4 PM to 8:45 PM).

The live marking period will begin in mid-March and is expected to continue until the end of April. Training will take place in the week of Monday 13 March 2023 (final dates to be confirmed), with live marking beginning immediately after the training period is completed.

Benefit of joining our team

You will be part of one of the largest learning companies internationally and work alongside like-minded professionals in assessing a range of writing responses from Year 3, 5, 7 and 9 students. Participating in the marking of NAPLAN Writing also provides a meaningful and rewarding experience, as you will be helping to enhance literacy levels in NSW and ACT. This is also a fantastic opportunity for those who wish to stay up to date with relevant content, skills and pedagogy, and to further support their professional growth in the education sector.
