Working at the ABC

The ABC is the nation's most trusted and independent source of Australian conversations, culture, and stories. With more than 4,000 employees from diverse backgrounds across more than 50 locations around Australia and overseas, we are proud to create, curate and deliver high-quality content that informs, educates and entertains Australian communities.

The ABC's a great place to work; we provide various opportunities for Indigenous staff, including attending the national Indigenous staff conference, activities during NAIDOC week, regular networking events and mentoring support.

You'll have a friendly and supportive environment to learn and grow in, with a vibrant, dynamic and cohesive team and a manager who will help you with any questions and give you regular opportunities to talk about your progress. You'll also have access to a network of Indigenous staff and support from the ABC's Lead, Indigenous Employment and Diversity.

About the Role

The ABC is synonymous with sport in Australia. Our experienced News and Grandstand teams are trusted by our audiences to deliver outstanding coverage of sports that are played across this great country of ours, and on the international stage. There has never been a better time to join the ABC, as we build on the breadth and depth of our sports content. This is a true, multi-platform content making position and no day will be the same. You will produce and present sports segments for ABC News Channel, host programs and live sport for ABC Grandstand, and produce a variety of written, video and audio content for the ABC's digital platforms.

About You

If you live and breathe sport and love the thrill of live commentary and producing sports content across platforms, then look no further. The ABC is committed through its Elevate Reconciliation Plan to build on the great work we have already done to ensure our content is inclusive of, and connects with Indigenous cultures, and we need you to help us achieve these goals. This is a rare opportunity to join the national broadcaster, and we can't wait to hear from you. Apply now!
