

Water Division Recruitment

Help Australia manage water. Support the National Water Initiative & help achieve a sustainable future for the environment & the Murray-Darling Basin.

- Can you contribute to water program management and policy?
- Can you make a difference in national water management?
- Can your stakeholder engagement deliver meaningful outcomes for Australia?

Water Policy, Program, Project and Coordination roles

The Water Division helps communities, irrigators and businesses, particularly in the Murray-Darling Basin, use water resources sustainably and efficiently by progressing national water reforms. The division promotes sustainable water development nationally under the principles of the National Water Initiative. The division contributes to the implementation of the Murray-Darling Basin Plan by recovering water and supporting communities, in ways that achieve the outcomes of the plan. The division works in a constantly changing environment and must deliver key national water reforms in set timeframes.

To help us achieve our goals and foster our positive, innovative workplace culture we are seeking Indigenous applicants for classifications from APS 4 to EL2 who are:

- creative -open to doing things differently to achieve success
- future thinkers -anticipating and adapting to new situations
- compassionate -mindful of the impact you have on others
- responsive and collaborative individuals -making things happen and building partnerships to succeed.

We offer:

a flexible, diverse and inclusive workplace and attractive remuneration package including generous employer superannuation contributions,

- exciting and fulfilling work including career development and networking opportunities,
- the opportunity to work with strong, smart, visionary and experienced leaders who encourage and support you to develop your interests and expertise and achieve your ambitions.
- some roles will have a strong involvement in issues relating to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Work locations

The division may have vacancies in Canberra, Adelaide, Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane along with the regional locations of Mildura, Goondiwindi and Griffith. In addition to these locations, vacancies may also become available in yet to be determined locations in the listed states as the department has committed to placing additional departmental staff in regional locations, in particular those within the Murray-Darling Basin.

Flexible employment arrangements are available with the Department of Agriculture, Water and the Environment
