The Museum of Applied Arts and Sciences (MAAS) is an executive agency of the New South Wales State Government. Embodying the best of design ingenuity and innovation, the Museum profiles one of the world's great collections and is a highly successful interdisciplinary institution that sits at the intersection of the arts, design, science and technology and plays a critical role in supporting the brand and vision of the city.

The Opportunity

The ATSI Collections Manager will plan, develop, implement, and monitor procedures, recruitment and procurement for the care, documentation and logistics related to Indigenous Cultural and Intellectual Property in the Museum's custody and care.

Day to day you will:

- Manage the planning, processes and policy development related to Indigenous Cultural and Intellectual Property as part of the Collection Relocation and Logistics project and the broader museum vision.
- Coordinate the documentation, digitization, management and relocation of Indigenous cultural material in the Museum's collection and care.
- Actively contribute to ensuring a culturally sensitive and safe workplace for staff, volunteers and interns working with the project.
- Supervise, manage and motivate staff, volunteers and interns to ensure a high level of collections management practice is maintained within culturally appropriate frameworks.

We are looking for someone to join the team with the following attributes:

- A well-developed knowledge of Indigenous culture and protocols
- Understanding of the sensitivities around working with ATSI cultural material
- Demonstrated knowledge of museum collection management practice and systems.
