

Environmental Health Officer Trainee

- Launch your career with a traineeship with Port Stephens Council (PSC)
- Temporary full time position, 35 hours per week and flexi-time
- This position is identified for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people only

Do you want to work while studying in a supportive team environment? This is the perfect opportunity.

PSC has partnered with NSW Health to offer a unique 6 year Environmental Health Officer (EHO) traineeship for an Aboriginal person. The EHO Trainee position is the ideal opportunity for the right candidate wishing to take their first steps in a successful and fulfilling career.

As the EHO Trainee, you'll:

- Study a bachelor degree in Environmental Health at Western Sydney University by distance part-time
- Gain on-the-job training through structured work both in the office and out in the community:
 - inspecting swimming pools, food, skin penetration and other businesses
 - responding to enquiries and investigating complaints
 - sampling water and soil
 - educating people to protect health and the environment

Enough about us, we want to hear about you! Tell us about...

- Your Aboriginal heritage and connections with Aboriginal people, community and culture.
- How you'll meet the admission requirements for the Bachelor of Natural Science (Environment and Health) at Western Sydney University to begin in Semester 2 - 2021?
- Your previous studies or experiences and how you'll successfully complete the degree part-time while working full-time.
- The personal qualities that you would you bring to the Environmental Health & Compliance team?

Please note: only the criteria above needs to be addressed in the application, however you'll be assessed against the full list of Responsibilities, Accountabilities, Skills Knowledge & Capacity located within the attached Position Description.

We want you to love PSC as much as we do, so here's what's included:

- Total remuneration package range: $48,353 - $62,172 pa based on a 35 hour week (includes 9.5% superannuation + retention allowance)
- Full payment of university fees for all subjects you pass
- Study leave and tutoring costs to complete course requirements
- The opportunity to participate in networking events where you can socialise with PSC's Apprentices, Cadets and Trainees and belong to a group of Aboriginal trainees and graduates from the NSW Health Aboriginal EHO Training Program in order to develop your own professional and social networks.

Ready to change your outlook and join the incredible team at PSC?

- Please apply by midnight, Sunday, 14 February 2021.
