

The Royal Australian
and New Zealand
College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists

Excellence in Women's Health

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Advisor

The Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RANZCOG)

Permanent Full-Time position - Melbourne Based

About the Role:

- Develop strategies and initiatives to support and grow the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander O&G workforce
- Advocacy and policy related to women's health
- Committee co-ordination including the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Women's Health Committee and Reconciliation Action Plan Working Group
- Contribution to the development and implementation of the College Reconciliation Action Plan
- Events Management
- Relationship building with Community leaders

The Ideal Candidate:

- Strong understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander issues and community needs with regards to Women's Health
- A high level of cultural competency and awareness
- Experience in a health or medical environment would be an advantage
- Linkages and networks with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander groups and communities
- Experience in developing and implementing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community engagement strategies
- Experience in the development and implementation of a Reconciliation Action Plan

For further details, and to apply for this role please visit our Employment page on our website. Applications close 5th December 2020.

<https://ranzcog.edu.au/>

WEB LINK