

Assistant Director/ Director - Affirmative Measures - Indigenous

Location: Various locations across ACT, NSW, QLD, VIC, TAS, SA, WA, NT

Work Context:

Services Australia makes government services simple so people can get on with their lives.

Our goal is to make it easier to engage with the services that Australians rely on.

To achieve this goal, we are transforming the way we work to deliver a simple, helpful, respectful and transparent experience for customers.

Job description:

Executive level staff undertake work that can be highly complex and/or sensitive. They may be required to rely on specific skills and knowledge across one or more of the following areas: Service Delivery, Program and Project Management, Policy, Regulatory Functions, Human Resources and Professional/Technical Functions.

Executive level staff are future-focused, and drive and embrace change, including advances with digital services and technology. As a leader in the agency they will play a key role in driving transformation.

They may work in a highly collaborative/agile environment and have regular and robust engagement with key internal and external stakeholders to develop and implement policy, strategy and procedures, and manage work output and quality.

Executive level staff work under the broad direction of senior officers to deliver quality outcomes.

They exercise a considerable degree of independence, with decision-making substantially dependent on high-level judgement and consideration of wider agency implications.

In performing a leadership role, executive level staff drive innovation and changes in workplace practices and organise work in the context of competing priorities and strategic direction.
