The Faculty of Fine Arts and Music at the University of Melbourne is home to the Victorian College of the Arts and the Melbourne Conservatorium of Music. Long recognised as one of the leading providers of fine arts and music education in Australia, the Faculty has an ambitious plan to grow its global profile.

About the role

This is an exciting opportunity for an early-career academic to join the prominent Wilin Centre for Indigenous Arts and Cultural Development. The role will contribute to the development of curriculum at the undergraduate and graduate levels, deliver undergraduate courses including all stages and aspects of course delivery and conduct research in Australian Indigenous arts and culture.

About you

You will have teaching experience in the area of Indigenous arts and culture and experience delivering a range of cross-cultural subject areas. Demonstrated excellence in building and enhancing coursework and teaching, an existing track record of art practice and/or research and outstanding interpersonal skills are also required.

Location

Based in the beautiful Southbank Campus of The University of Melbourne, you will work nestled amongst Melbourne's major arts and cultural organisations and venues. You will have the convenience of great transport links to the rest of the city with the serenity of the Botanical Gardens close by.
