

The Primary Health Network are hiring!

Aboriginal Culture and Access Manager

Location: Newcastle, Central coast or Tamworth

Full-time Fixed Term until 30th June 2021

Hunter New England Central Coast Primary Health Network (HNECC PHN) is a government funded not-for-profit organisation. We are seeking people to join us on our mission of improving healthcare in our communities.

The Aboriginal Culture and Access Manager works with the community and primary health care providers to improve health outcomes. In order to embed and strengthen the HNECC PHN's existing culturally safe ways of working, the Aboriginal Culture and Access Manager will be responsible for working across all portfolios to assist in the strategic direction of the Organisation.

You will be further responsible for:

- Placing Aboriginal people and communities at the centre of the decision-making process by advocating for the needs of Aboriginal people and implementing a whole of organisational approach to Aboriginal health will lead to improved health outcomes for Aboriginal people and communities within our region.
- Developing and maintaining an ongoing connection with all Aboriginal Consultative Bodies, in order to implement the 2018 - 2020 Aboriginal Healthcare Framework Guide.
- Leading a diverse team of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal employees
- Increasing cultural competency across an organisation and a culturally safe space for individual employees

Why Work for the PHN?

- A chance to make a difference in your community and improve health outcomes;
- Generous salary packaging of $15,900;
- An additional salary packaging option of up to $2,650 for approved meal entertainment claims;
- Supported professional development and conference attendance;
- Additional 5 days Family and Community Services leave
- A flexible and supporting culture; and
- A base salary between $100,000 - $120,000

To learn more about the PHN and the role, call Heather Alexander on 0491 247 509. Heather will be happy to have a casual chat about any questions you may have.

The closing date for applications is Friday 27th March, 2020.
