

Indigenous Engagement Manager

Darwin, Northern Territory

Part Time, Ongoing (03 Days a Week)

- Exciting opportunity to create development pathways for Indigenous Australians
- Join a driven and passionate team and work for a leading Indigenous owned business

ARA Indigenous Services is an industry leader that delivers an integrated property maintenance service including; contract cleaning, soft services and waste management.

We are currently looking for an Indigenous Engagement Manager to join our Engagement team in a Part-time capacity. The main object of this role is to manage our service provision across the Northern Territory, provide mentorship and support to our Indigenous workforce, conduct quality assurance activities through our NT portfolio and actively participate in community and engagement within local Aboriginal communities.

What you will need:

- Knowledge and understanding of Indigenous culture
- Having a network in local indigenous community
- Working knowledge for procedures of cleaning and sanitation products, techniques and methods

You will be responsible for:

- You will be responsible for managing the daily cleaning requirements of the site in conjunction with the cleaning staff and the Operations team.
- Managing rosters for cleaners;
- Coordinating with staff and site managers regular site supervision; and
- Ensuring quality standards are met.
- Experience achieving targets and working to compliance standards
- Strong communication skills and able to deal with a diverse range of people

If you believe you possess the expertise and experience to work in this environment then we are interested in hearing from you. Please send your updated resume to hr@arapropertyservices.com.au or apply via Seek.