

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Advanced Health Worker

Logan and Beaudesert Hospitals

Full time and part time positions available

Logan and Beaudesert Hospitals are looking for several Advanced Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Workers to join their team in a full time or part time capacity.

Working with the Womens and Childrens division, successful applicants will support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women and their partner/family through education on health lifestyle, self-determination care choices and reduce risk behaviours during pregnancy and thereafter.

Metro South Health is Australia's first digital health service and one of the largest in Queensland, with an estimated residential population of approximately one million people or 23 per cent of Queensland's population.

This is your opportunity to join the dedicated team of professionals at Metro South Health and be part of a world-class, dynamic and growing health service that embraces technology, excellence in health care, teaching, research and empowering our people to be the best in serving our community.

About the Role

This position is required to bring lived experience as an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person into practice, commitment, and passion for working in the community, able to build strong relationships with the Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander community of Logan and Beaudesert.

Benefits

As a Metro South employee, you will benefit from a higher than standard employer contribution to Superannuation of up to 12.75%, access to salary packaging, flexible working arrangements and competitive salary rates with annual incremental increases.

We are committed to providing a diverse and inclusive workplace for our people and our community. We encourage people of all genders, races, ages and abilities to apply for roles within our Health Service.
